I'M AT HOME IN THE CLASSROOM. I'M HOME AT ASCE.

To truly excel in your civil engineering career, you must make a commitment to lifelong learning and discovery. From the traditional university classroom setting to web-enabled distance learning, ASCE is committed to ensuring you are prepared to meet the complex challenges of civil engineering with the highest degree of technical acumen, professional attributes, and creative problem-solving skills. ASCE supports the formal education process of civil engineers through programs such as the nationally acclaimed ExCEED (Excellence in Civil Engineering Education) Teaching Workshop and leads the profession with its innovative approach to defining and fulfilling the Body of Knowledge required for future engineers. For more information about ASCE educational activities, go to www.asce.org.
